

GEMARTS

Creating and Profiling Diverse Arts

Autumn / Winter 2015

Welcome to GemArts' Autumn Winter 15 Season

GemArts has been busy putting together another jam packed season of wonderful South Asian arts, and high quality projects for you to enjoy.

The Autumn Winter season begins with two of India's finest Khyal performers Rajan and Sajan Misra, and ends with the outstanding talent of Simon Thacker's Svava-Kanti. If you're visiting Portugal before October make sure you catch our co-commissioned work Double Dutch: a game, by north east based artist Isabel Lima, on display as part of a group exhibition across Lagos city. This season we welcome a host of world class musicians to the North East, for what will be truly magnificent evenings of music and performance. Both long-time fans and those new to Indian classical music will enjoy the programme, as we continue to offer informative pre-concert talks and in conversations through GemArts' Riverside Ragas series. Don't miss your chance to learn from experts working in a range of genres and backgrounds, and watch out for announcements in our newsletter and online.

This season GemArts also continue to work with participants across visual arts, dance, drama and music. We're very excited to launch an anti-hate crime poster and animation resource, created by pupils at Joseph Swan Academy and Heworth Grange Comprehensive School, as part of our work with The Gateshead Housing Company and Gateshead Council's Safer Communities Team. More information on GemArts projects can be found online, you can follow our work on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram.

After more than 15 years working to increase equality of opportunity for everyone to engage with diverse arts, GemArts is now offering new ways to support our charitable work, including a new Corporate Members Club. This exclusive Club will allow GemArts to work closely with businesses who value the positive impact of our work and the experiences we offer more than 93,000 people each year. With a host of benefits on offer, joining GemArts' Corporate Members Club will open up new opportunities for business, staff and clients.

At GemArts we want everyone to experience the arts, with special offers for group bookings, student discount and pre-concert talks and demonstrations, we are working hard to introduce diverse arts to as many people as possible. Regular audiences can also make use of special multi buy options. More information in the brochure, and as always keep checking www.gemarts.org for updates.

This is just a snapshot of what's to come, read on for the full programme. On behalf of everyone at GemArts, thank you for your continued support, and I look forward to welcoming you to this fantastic season of events.

Vikas Kumar
Director

GemArts is a dynamic arts development organisation based in the North East of England. We produce and programme new and exciting culturally diverse arts, by creating and developing high quality concerts, events, festivals, workshops and commissions with regional, national and international artists across all art forms.

Our Vision: We believe that the arts enrich the lives of individuals and communities through celebrating our cultural diversity – raising aspirations, building stronger communities and breaking down barriers.

Our Mission: To increase equality of opportunity for everyone to engage with culturally diverse arts – as producers, participants and audience.

Double Dutch: a game

Saturday 15th August – Thursday 15th October 2015

Venue: Lagos, Portugal

Info: www.gemarts.org

Double Dutch: a game is a two-channel video installation, which documents a participatory performance in two parts, each representing a different view of the process of seeking asylum in the UK. It is a project from Newcastle based Portuguese artist Isabel Lima, a book and exhibition accompanied the Newcastle launch in 2014.

The work goes on display in Portugal from 15 August as part of the biannual MALA (Mostra de Artistas Lacobrigences) show exhibiting the work of artists born or resident in Lagos city, organised by Lagos City Council. For more information on Double Dutch: a game at MALA and venue details see www.gemarts.org.

Double Dutch: a game is co-commissioned by GemArts and supported using public funding by the National Lottery through Arts Council England.

Rajan and Sajan Misra are two of India's finest singers of the North Indian style of Khyal, from the esteemed lineage of the Benares Gharana. They studied under their father, Pt Hanuman Prasad Misra and uncle Pt. Gopal Misra.

Translated as 'imagination', khyal is an elaborate and virtuoso style, demanding improvisational flexibility as well as careful attention to notation, phrasing and rhythm. The hallmark of the Misra brothers' style is their superb intonation, beautiful imagination and yet traditional approach to the music. Their concerts include old compositions alongside their own, showcasing their amazing vocal range and technique.

Accompanying on tabla is Sanju Sahai, one of the finest and most sought after Tabla players of his generation.

Rajan and Sajan will also deliver a masterclass for advanced students to accompany this concert, for more information contact info@gemarts.org

Before Star Wars, George Lucas' feature length debut was a stylistic Sci-Fi movie starring Robert Duvall and Donald Pleasence. Since its release, THX 1138 has achieved cult status and samples from the dialogue and soundtrack have been used by a host of influential artists including, Nine Inch Nails, The Shamen, Meat Beat Manifesto, UNKLE, Orbital, and Front 242. The film's sound design was made by triple Oscar winner Walter Murch who also designed the soundtrack to 'Apocalypse Now'. The film's themes around surveillance and technology's part in society, make THX 1138 just as relevant today as it was over forty years ago.

Asian Dub Foundation (ADF) are celebrated for their brilliant live shows which mix rapcore, dub, dancehall and raga sounds, and for performing live soundtracks to iconic films. At this event ADF will perform their exhilarating and fast moving score to this amazing film, live at Sage Gateshead.

or info@gemarts.org

GemArts presents Anu-bhaava, a breathtaking Kuchipudi performance. This Classical Indian dance originating from Andhra Pradesh, is now popular all over South India, and has developed from a purely male dance form to one performed with exquisite style by both male and female dancers.

Payal began her award winning journey as a Kuchipudi dancer when she was four years old, and since then has continued striving towards perfection and excellence with dedication, and unstinted support and guidance from her renowned Padmashri (teachers) Guru Jayarama Rao and Vanashree Rao. A true proponent of this beautiful dance form, Payal has performed in festivals both in India and abroad, and also teaches younger generations through workshops and demonstrations.

GemArts is delighted to welcome back visionary guitarist/composer Simon Thacker's Svava-Kanti, creating unique "soundworlds" that seamlessly meld culture and tradition with innovation and imagination.

The group's latest work, Trikala, a Sanskrit word representing the three states of time: past, present and future, features music composed and arranged by Simon, with stunning raga based instrumentals and concepts from Indian classical music, Punjabi traditions reimagined and the spirit of the subcontinent's many mystical traditions.

Svava-Kanti also features the beautiful voice of Japjit Kaur, violinist and Britten Sinfonia leader Jacqueline Shave and renowned tabla master Sarvar Sabri. A new album will be recorded in late 2015, co-commissioned by GemArts and Creative Scotland.

Concert includes an artist talk with Simon Thacker, sharing insight into the genre, his career and the artists involved in this project. Free to ticket holders.
